

Advantages of the language certificate P.E.T.

The Cambridge Language Certificate is internationally recognized by most Universities and can be a necessary qualification to add to a C.V.

Information about the PET

The PET is a B1 level and the exam is made up of 4 parts:

1. Reading
2. Writing
3. Listening
4. Speaking

The participants should have already a competence B1 or near B1, as the main objective of the course is to familiarize with the different tests of the exam and acquire the most effective strategies to pass the PET.

If you are not sure about your own level of proficiency, here is a link that will help you to ascertain, in an approximately way, your level.

<http://www.cambridgeenglish.org/it/test-your-english/>

Learnholistically.it

Our research is based on the principles of Holistic Learning, that is a total involvement of human being's different parts in the learning process.

About this online course

This online course is designed to prepare candidates for the Cambridge PET (Preliminary Certificate in English) examination. PET is an intermediate exam to show you can use the language in a range of everyday situations.

Upon completion of the Cambridge B1 Preliminary (PET), you'll have the confidence to progress to even higher-level Cambridge exams.

In this course you will cover grammar and vocabulary, reading and listening comprehension, varieties of written English and speaking practice, all of which are essential for success in the PET exam.

Your online classroom studies will be supported by regular homework and self-study activities throughout the course. You will learn

- A broader English vocabulary
- To improve your pronunciation
- How and when to use different grammar tenses
- To communicate effectively in a range of situations
- To write well-structured, accurate and easy to understand letters
- To understand longer listening extracts, such as TV shows, lectures and videos.

The reason why this course is not for those that are far from the target level, is due to the number of hours allocated to the training in the strategies of listening, writing, reading and oral interaction that are required to pass the test.

Instructor

The course will be held by Roberto Cuccu, a language teacher who has published several scientific articles on strategies to use in order to help learners to learn according to their own learning style and face the difficulties one may encounter.

About the instructor and how to contact him

COSTS

The cost of the training depends on the number of hours that will be necessary to allow the participant to take confidently the exam. It will not exceed 100 €.